I'd like to see CC in EVERY movie theater.

My teen-aged daughters want to go to the movies with thier friends; NOT, wait to read it when it comes out on video.

Require television makers to make turning on and off captioning easier! I've tried to use it for a Deaf student in the school system and spent days tring to find out how to turn it on. Sometimes, I never figure it out. A simple CC button on the remote would be nice! Unfortunately, many times because me and others cannot get it turned on in time, the student doesn't get to participate in what the class watched for that day.
